

Creative Facilitation

Thessaloniki April 18 & 19, 2015
Athens April 27 & 28, 2015

In a rapidly changing society, there is a need for fresh approaches to learning that deeply engage young people and help them succeed in school, work and life. PYE Global, international leaders in youth empowerment, are pleased to join forces with Ashoka Greece to offer Creative Facilitation, a 2-day experiential workshop that will transform the way you work with young people. This training is ideal for teachers, youth workers, program leaders and social changemakers of all kinds.

Join us and learn

- Ways to use creativity and the arts to create dynamic learning experiences for young people
- Easy to lead activities based on storytelling, creative writing, visual arts, music, drama and movement that build life skills
- Ways to create safe and supportive environments for creative exploration and deep connection
- Facilitation skills that will enliven your group sessions
- Ways to unlock and engage your innate creativity that will re-energize your work with young people

Lead Facilitator: Charlie Murphy, Co-founder & CEO PYE Global (Ashoka Fellow USA), is internationally recognized for his ground-breaking work using the arts to bring depth, relevance and effectiveness to organizations and education programs for adults and youth. An acclaimed facilitator and presenter, Charlie has worked with organizations, schools and businesses on five continents.
