Short Description:

This project was born as an initiative of the city of Albacete and ASPRONA (Association for the Care of Persons with Intellectual Disabilities and their Families in the Province of Albacete)

Base of this project is ASPRONA’s Section Fair Floats Making: It was born fourteen years ago, as a form of creative expression for Persons with Intellectual Disabilities. The integration in society through the work of Persons with Intellectual Disabilities, acquires its finest in this section, exposing their work in an event that can be judged and compared by the general public regarding any industry professional.

The idea

This project aims to encourage young people with and without disabilities across Europe - Padawans in honor of the legendary Star Wars (padawans / apprentices) – to learn from young workers with intellectual disability that works in the fair-floats section (Jedis / Teachers). Together they will create a fair-float, and they will take part in the parade during the Albacete Fair: recognized international cultural interest and more than a million visitors.
